

Respiratory Evaluation LPN/RN

Moab Regional Hospital is seeking qualified candidates for one full-time Respiratory Evaluation RN or LPN to support community-oriented COVID-19 response operations. This person will be part of a team that provides: (1) testing to community members, both asymptomatic and patients with suspected symptoms, or PUIs ("patient under investigation"); and (2) provides telephonic support and scheduling for individuals. This is the perfect position for a new graduate ready to make a start as a nurse and get their foot in the door. If this role becomes obsolete, this position will receive priority preference for transfer to any other position in the facility for which they're qualified, including but not limited to family practice clinic, inpatient unit, hospice, surgical services, and more. This is a full-time, benefited position and will be scheduled to regularly work 8 or 12 hour shifts.

Our Mission: Our dedicated team puts the patient first, delivers quality cost-effective healthcare and promotes wellness to all we serve.

Our Vision: From patient care to community wellness, we serve as your portal to health.
