

Perioperative RN at Moab Regional Hospital

Moab Regional Hospital is seeking one qualified Perioperative RN to join our team. This position plays an essential role in the provision of care to our patients before, during and after operations and procedures. Our ideal candidate is efficient with a high level of attention to detail and is passionate about patient safety. The right applicant also has prior experience with surgical procedures, to include scrub/surgical technologist responsibilities and central sterile processing. Due to the rural location of MRH, our ideal candidate must possess a comprehensive range of general nursing skills and be able to adapt and learn new skills without hesitation. This position will call on your ability to respond quickly and accurately in a wide variety of situations. This is an excellent opportunity for someone looking to expand their nursing skills. This is a full-time year-round, benefited position and requires on-call responsibilities, including some evenings, weekends, and holidays.

MISSION: Our dedicated team puts the patient first, delivers quality cost-effective healthcare and promotes wellness to all we serve.

VISION: From patient care to community wellness, we serve as your portal to health.
