

Scrub Tech

Moab Regional Hospital is seeking qualified candidates for a Scrub Tech opening. This position plays an essential role by assisting surgeons during operations and ensuring the operating room is sterile at all times. Scrub Techs must possess phenomenal efficiency and attention to detail with a strong knowledge of surgical procedures and patient safety. Our ideal candidate is a compassionate, critical thinker and is able to act effectively in emergencies. Due to the rural location of MRH, candidates must possess a comprehensive range of general scrub skills, including central sterile processing, and be able to adapt and learn without hesitancy. This is a full-time, year-round, benefited position and requires on call responsibilities, including rotating evenings, weekends, and holidays.
